

its facilitation not only within the national boundary but also across the boarder. CRIT will deliver its expertise to strengthen the commitment and deliverance of both, governmental and non-governmental institutions. Understand the dimensions, magnitude and impact of the issues in the society through series of action researches. With the research findings and recommendations holistic programs and interventions will be designed.

Experiences:

CRIT has undertaken several studies on behalf of different agencies. Some of them are:

- A case study on Governance Literacy Classes of SAGUN Program OF CARE Nepal
- Using School mapping information to increase access to Secondary Education
 1. Community Support to Education:
 2. School Based Assessment:
 3. Increasing access to Education for Disadvantaged and Disabled Children.
- COPE: Household data management for municipality based local planning for Universal Primary Education for COPE/UNDP
- TRPAP: Household Socio Economic Survey in Tourism for Rural Poverty Alleviation Program.
- Distance Education for Health Workers:
- Short term teacher trainings.
- Student achievement test

Professional Services we provide

1. Designing and carrying out action research activities.
2. Conduct baseline survey and feasibility studies.
3. Program, planning and implementing development initiatives.
4. Monitoring, review and evaluation
5. Training and short courses
6. Advocacy, awareness and materials production.
7. Publication and documentation

CRIT have a multi-disciplinary team of experts such as researchers, professors, doctors, lawyers, communication specialists and development workers with ample experiences. The pool of experts provides the substantive and practical supports.

Planned Activities:

1. Civic Education in Nepal
 2. Combating Impunity
 3. Establishment of Day Care Centre for Senior Citizens
 4. Micro-Financing in Deprived Sector
 5. Teacher's Training
 6. Student's Achievement Test
- Conceptualizing new projects

Centre for Research. Innovation and Training (CRIT)

Address:

Siddhartha Marg-170,
Bagbazaar, Kathmandu
Metropolitan city,
Nepal

- PAN : 301745145
- GPOBox : 5279, Kathmandu
- Phone No. : 00 977-1-4244110
- E-mail : info@crit.org.np
- URL : <http://www.crit.org.np>

Introduction

Centre for Research, Innovation and Training (CRIT) established in 1997 by a team of professionals committed to "transformation of mankind through value chain education for socially desirable, economically feasible and environmentally viable caring earth". CRIT is a non-profit making, autonomous and non-governmental organization mainly focuses activities on action research, innovative initiatives and edification. It also offers a platform for other like minded institutions or individuals to share knowledge, skills and experiences.

CRIT aims to contribute its professional expertise in the issues of development. This institution is committed to embark on sustainable approaches, impacts on developmental aspect with innovative ideas.

Of numerous problems that nations is facing, some of them are seriously hitting the situation at national level where as some others are profusely spread over local level. Such situations can be improved with timely, spatial and positive alteration of problem with innovative measures. It is also noted that some problems can be wisely handled with collective efforts at various levels. Further express its determination to group up professional experts for state building process. Making citizens aware in all walks of life, CRIT think as very great

Vision (Goal):

Our Vision is "Transformation of Mankind through Value Chain Education for Socially Desirable, Economically Feasible and Environmentally Viable Caring Earth".

Mission (Objectives):

An overall objective of CRIT is to take part in the statecraft with its defined expertise. However the specific objectives are:

Socially desirable

- To promote and strengthen value added education
- To advocate right and responsibilities of individual and institution
- To aware health and sanitation
- To develop networking of local wisdoms and skills
- To promote practical democracy in the context of New Nepal

Economically feasible

- To enhance quality life through inclusive growth
- To mobilize available resources with value for money
- To develop business networking at local and international level for equitable distribution
- To maximize IT and Communication for healthy investments

Environmentally viable

- To contribute on the issues of climate change
- To promote and enhance efficient use of alternative energy
- To promote 3R (Reduce, Reuse and Recycle) approach
- To sensitize community for natural calamities

Working Strategy

CRIT emphasizes team work in a bottom-up approach. The problems recognized at local level are the major source of the action initiation to CRIT. The Centre sought innovative approaches to tackle with problems in a sustained manner. Networking, team work, regular seminars, dialogue and sharing sessions are given prominence. Executive body, advisory board, technical team and secretariat are formed to effective shape up the vision of CRIT. It has a number of relevant human resources within its membership to support in technical and administrative affairs. The organization owns professional researchers to do designing of the study, developing tools, analyzing data and report writing, experienced trainers to conduct training programs, and well dedicated social workers to launch programs and campaigns. CRIT has a powerful link with experts from diverse fields to pull from as and when necessary.